

International show jumper and British team rider Jackson R-Stephenson has been using Ecobed at his stables in York for the last four years.

"I believe Ecobed is the best Horse bedding on the market" because:-

- It's dust free so my horses have clear lungs when competing in the ring, essential towards the end of a big track, when I need them to bust a gut for me, that they have clear airways so they can use their lungs to get as much oxygen into their bodies as possible to enable them to clear the big jumps.
- My groom loves it as it's easy to muck out and doesn't stick to the horses main and tail saving a lot of grooming time. Also she has asthma, she used to struggle breathing when mucking out in the past, now on Ecobed her breathing is fine when mucking out!
- My mum loves it as she puts some of the waste bedding on her roses on the garden it rots down quicker than shavings and straw.
- I was using shavings but when my friend Piggy French recommended Ecobed to me and also I heard that most of the top racehorses in the country were stabled on it, I gave it a go, I definitely won't be going back to dusty shavings! I also feel good about myself that I'm doing my bit for the environment by using a recycled product.

We will be following Jackson's exciting team of horses throughout the year!
